RUTLAND ALUMNI MEET PRES. MOODY

Middlebury's New Executive Speaks at Luncheon Friday

56 ALUMNI ATTEND DINNER

Rev. Moody Praises Undergraduate Spirit---Wants College to Grow

"We want Middlebury to grow", said President Paul D. Moody addressing fifty-six Middlebury alumni at the Middlebury luncheon held last Friday at the Community House in Rutland, "but we do not want her to grow too large or too fast. I envy no man who is president of a large institution, for he has not the opportunity of the president of a small institution to keep in touch with the individual members of the college."

President Moody reminded the alumni that the college has this year come within eight of having five hundred students, a goal towards which many alumni have long been working. He said that he had been greatly impressed with the spirit shown by the students of Middlebury and that in his experience with educational institutions he had never known a group of undergraduates whom he thought were capable of a truer and finer spirit. President Moody expressed confidence that the present students of the college would carry on the good traditions of the past.

Speaking of the Bread Loaf pilgrimage, Dr. Moody said that he thought it served to keep vividly before the minds of the undergraduates an appreciation of the far-sighted idealism which was an outstanding characteristic of the late Joseph Battell the donor of the 30,000 acre Battell forest. President Moody expressed appreciation of the greeting given him at Rutland, and pledged to the alumni present his devotion to the trust which had been placed in his hands as head of Middlebury College.

The luncheon which was arranged on short notice by Mr. E. L. Bigelow '13 was a success in every particular. The alumni in attendance were for the most part Vermont teachers in conference at the State Teachers Convention. In addition to the alumni present which included Hon. B. L. Stafford '01, a trustee of the college, Professors W. E. Davison '13, J. S. Kingsley and F. E. Howard attended the luncheon.

The particular purpose of the gathering as explained by Mr. Bigelow was to give the alumni present the opportunity to meet the new president. At the close of his address President Moody extended a request to the alumni to keep in close touch with the institution and to make themselves known to him whenever they met him. He spoke of the great pleasure he now has in meeting Middlebury alumni wherever he speaks.

The gathering closed with the singing of college songs.

The alumni present were: F. G. Swinnerton '75, Edward Dana '76, C. B. Ross '82, W. M. Ross '86, E. H. Dorsey '95, Charles L. Leonard '95, George S. Wright '95, M. E. Daniels '96, W. H. Botsford '98, Mary Gerrish Higley '98.

WILLIAMS TO PLAY 'VARSITY SATURDAY

Middlebury Anticipates Hard Tussle at Williamstown

PURPLE HAS STRONG TEAM

Coached By Percy Wendell, Famous Harvard Star

Williams Results

Williams 14, Hamilton 0
Williams 0, Bowdoin 0
Williams 0, Yale 23

Williams, with a record of one victory, one scoreless tie and one defeat on its record, will be the next opponent of Middlebury at Williamstown Saturday. Despite the loss by graduation of Captain "Benny" Boynton, All-American quarter who has easily been the outstanding figure in Williams football for several seasons, the Purple is represented this year with a strong, aggressive eleven. Defeated by Yale 23-0 in their last game, the score can not, however, be taken as an indication of Williams weakness but rather of Eli strength. The Williamstown men are the first to have threatened the Yale goal line this year. Several times they got as far as the Bull Dog's 15-yard mark only to lose the ball. In the last period they uncorked a very fast and brilliant forward passing game.

Wendell Coach at Williamstown

Williams is coached entirely by Harvard men, head coach Percy Wendell, twice choice for All-American, being assisted by Lawson as line coach and O'Brien as end coach. Scrimmage is being held every day except Friday in preparation for the Middlebury game.

Fargo, captain and tackle, is doing the drop-kicking and place kicking for the Purple and has shown good form

Midlebury Wins First Game of State Championship Series on Porter Field Saturday

NORWICH HELD SCORELESS

Cadets Outplayed in All but Part of Third Period---Many Fumbles Mar Play of Both Teams.

By the scant margin of a drop-kick Middlebury defeated Norwich 3-0 in the first home game of the season at Porter Field Saturday and went into the lead in the Vermont State Championship series. The game was a hair-raising, nerve racking affair interspersed alternately with brilliant play, costly play and all sorts of sudden reverses. The lone score came in the last quarter as fitting climax to the intense excitement that pervaded the entire contest. Quackenbush dropped back and booted the ball from the 24-yard line. The drop registered a goal by the narrowest of margins, the spheroid actually striking the goal posts.

Middlebury Outplays Norwich

Except in the first of the third quarter Middlebury clearly outplayed her rivals. They quite completely excelled in ground gaining and seemed to have little difficulty in plunging through the Norwich line for considerable gains but always when within striking distance of the cadet's goal they lost on fumbles and misplays.

Twice in the first quarter after fast diversified play Middlebury worked down under the shadow of the Norwich goal posts only to lose the ball on fumbles. Twice again in the second quarter Middlebury made strong advances that looked like sure touchdowns but in each case the chances to score were lost.

Norwich Rallys in Third Quarter

Norwich, in the third quarter, staged a brilliant and determined rally and for a time seemed to play Middlebury off their feet. The Norwich line shift seemed to have Coach Morey's men guessing and several forward passes were completed for substantiol gains.

But before Norwich became very dangerous the Middlebury defense stiffened and took the ball away from the cadets on a fumble. From then on Norwich was comparatively harmless until the last few minutes of play, after Middlebury had scored.

Norwich obtained the ball on a costly fumble by Drost and on the first play Captain Smith shot a long forward to Hylan, the cadet right end, who ran up to Middlebury's second defense before he was stopped. On the next attempt, however, Daly saved the Middlebury goal line from danger when he intercepted a second pass.

Both Backfields Gain

At times both backfields seemed able to gain through the line but never when within striking distance of the goal. A line shift with a quick snap of the ball and a rush through tackle or outside varied with a puzzling assortment of forward passes seemed to be the cadets' best ground gainers. Middlebury for the most part confined her aerial attack to the last quarter. Her backs all showed up well, Drost and

PRESIDENT THOMAS INAUGURATED FRIDAY

Former Executive of Middlebury Becomes President of State College —Many Attend Ceremonies

Speaking before an audience of several thousand, including representatives of one hundred sister institutions and large numbers of returned alumni, President John M. Thomas delivered his inaugural address on the occasion of his becoming president of Pennsylvania State College Friday, October 14, at State College, Pa. President Thomas made an eloquent appeal for the unifying of the education system in Pennsylvania so as to be progressive from the lowest field to the university, and that university Penn State College with the change of name to Penn State University.

The inaugural exercises were followed by a dinner at which Dr. Thomas presided as toast master and Governor Sproul of Pennsylvania, Dr. Finegan, President Thompson of Ohio State, President Kinley of Illinois State, and President Vinson of the University of Texas were the speakers.

Ceremonies incident to the inauguration covered a period of three days beginning Thursday with an educational conference at which the principal addresses were delivered by Professor E. R. A. Seligman of the Department of Economics at Columbia, Dr. Samuel P. Capen, who during the war was secretary of the commissions on education on the Council of National Defence, and Dr. Thomas E. Finegan, Pennsylvania State Superintendent of Instruction. In the evening session Charles M. Schwab was the speaker.

Friday's entertainment opened with a parade which was the students' contribution and depicted the different departments of the institution, included the formal inaugural ceremonies and ended with a great mass meeting in the Schwab Auditorium followed by a celebration on Beaver Field.

The Lehigh-Penn State football game was played Saturday on Beaver field, Bezdeck's men winning 28-7. It is estimated that over 10,000 witnessed the contest.

Professor Charles B. Wright represented Middlebury at the inauguration.

The tickets for the lecture by the Hon. William Jennings Bryan in Mead Memorial Chapel, October 31, are now on sale at the C. O. Frost Pharmacy. Price of tickets is $1.00.

Alumni Organization

Rutland, with nearly three score living Middlebury alumni within its borders and many more within a short radius comprising the several outlying towns has seldom if ever before known of such a reunion as was held there last week on the occasion of the Middlebury luncheon. The splendid success of the gathering bespeaks the loyalty of the alumni and testifies to their active interest in the affairs of the college. Arranged and planned entirely within the short space of twenty-four hours, nevertheless a truly creditable number of graduates were assembled together in a happy demonstration of their love for Alma Mater. Had there been more time, more adequate preparation and better notice the attendance, increased as it was by the presence of the Vermont teachers at the State Teachers' Convention, would undoubtedly have swelled to a figure considerably above that registered.

But why have there not been more of these reunions of Middlebury alumni in Rutland, or for that matter, elsewhere where Middlebury alumni are to be found in numbers? Plainly the answer is in the lack of organization very apparent among Middlebury alumni. Contrast the long unbroken line of successes which have rewarded the efforts of the New York Alumni Association in organizing regular monthly dinners of the graduates in the Metropolitan districts, with the comparative inactivity of the countless bodies of unorganized alumni scattered everywhere about the country.

Each monthly meeting of the New York Association may be taken as ample and sufficient reason why that body is regarded as such a powerful supporting unit to the college. Its influence has been felt in many ways; in the item of enrollment, in securing better athletics, in furthering the present endowment campaign. True, the Rutland alumni have also made their influence felt. In general they can not be accused of lack of interest nor lack of loyalty. Rather their shortcoming is in neglecting to realize in the fullest measure from their interests and from their efforts. Obviously there is need for some such active organizing influence such as the New Yorkers enjoy.

Vermont with over six hundred living alumni is represented by a single graduate body which purports to maintain some sort of unifying influence over the total number of alumni within its borders. In the most recent Address Bulletin prepared by the college The Campus finds no record of any smaller, more comprehensive group within the state. It is impossible for this large unwieldy group to get together with any degree of regularity but it would not be impossible for smaller more centrally located groups to get together as the New York Association does. Experience has proved that such gatherings are a valuable adjunct to the life of the college. Rutland has learned through one luncheon what New York and Boston alumni had already learned, that such gatherings are welcome to the alumni themselves.

But Rutland alumni and the alumni in many other municipalities will not be able to enjoy these reunions until they provide the proper machinery to make them possible. Plainly it is the duty of Rutland alumni to organize. Let them take the lead among the smaller cities. Others will follow.

Concerning Advertising

A certain local merchant when solicited, refused to advertise in The Campus, and gave as his reason that he got the student trade anyhow. Does he deserve to keep it? Readers of The Campus can do a real service by patronizing our advertisers. They make the paper possible. Remember this when making a purchase.

The following is a list of merchants who are actively supporting the college:—The Addison, Betsey Buttles Tea House, Zeph Boulia, Calvi Bros., Gardner J. Duncan, Dyer, Delphia, Evans, Hanks, Healy's Sweet Shop, Ives and Shambo, Midd. Athletic Supply Co., Opera House, E. E. Ross, Rugg's, C. F. Rich, Smoke Shop and John M. Stewart.

His death followed as a result of an automobile accident Sunday, October 9, near Cornwall. For three days following MacMurtry did not feel any injury from the mishap, but Wednesday his condition was pronounced serious.

MacMurtry was born January 22, 1894 at Crown Point, N. Y. He prepared for college in Middlebury High School and graduated from Middlebury College in 1920. He was a prominent in musical circles. He was a member of Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity. Besides his parents he leaves three brothers and four sisters.

The funeral will be held at the Weybridge Monument Church tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

JAPANESE HONOR DR. ROWLAND '83

Special Church Service Held for Middlebury Alumnus Prominent in Missionary Work

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the work of Dr. George M. Rowland, a graduate of Middlebury College in the class of 1883, as a missionary was celebrated at Hokkaido, Japan, by a special church service in his honor. The service marked the climax of the conference of the Local Association of Congregational Churches in Hokkaido.

Dr. Rowland was highly praised for his pioneer missionary work in that section of Japan, and for the remarkable success which has followed his quarter-century of work there. During the service, Dr. Rowland was presented with a pair of vases inscribed with the copy of some aboriginal hieroglyphics found on a cliff near the city of Hokkaido.

Dr. Rowland, with Mrs. Rowland and their family, was sent to Hakkaido in December, 1896, by the Church of Christ in Norfolk, Conn. At that time there was only one church in existence at Hokkaido. Due to Dr. Rowland's efforts, there are now four strong, self-supporting, active churches there, as well as other smaller ones.

Dr. Rowland was born in Morristown, N. Y., in 1859. He is a graduate of Middlebury in the class of 1883 and of Hartford Theological Seminary, receiving ordination in 1886. He is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa and Delta Upsilon Fraternities.

BANQUET COMMITTEE OUT FOR NEW ATTENDANCE MARK

Moody, and it is expected that the presence of the new president will attract many.

$675 NOW SUBSCRIBED TO ALUMNI ATHLETIC FUND

A second letter has been circulated among the Middlebury alumni in an effort to raise funds for better athletics and in the short time since these last letters were sent out $74 has been received at the office of the treasurer. Subscriptions are being solicited with encouraging results. A previous appeal started some time ago netted $601. This with the recent subscriptions brings the fund up to $675. Checks from the alumni should be mailed to Mr. John A. Fletcher, treasurer, Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vt.

COMMUNICATION

Middlebury, Vt.,
October 18, 1921.

To the Editor of The Campus.

It has been my pleasure to receive a large number of letters from Middlebury Alumni who have expressed their appreciation of the splendid showing made by our team against Harvard, Dartmouth, West Point and Norwich. Many of these gentlemen congratulated me on the excellent physical condition of the men. A proper diet is one of the essentials for perfect physical condition; and I want to express publicly my appreciation of the care and attention in this respect that the ladies of the various fraternity houses have given our men. At Hepburn Mrs. Mason has left absolutely nothing undone which would make for the success of the team, giving hours of extra time and effort to provide for the individual wants of our men. The care of these men has been of the best, and it is my earnest desire that this fact be made known to those who are interested in the team.

REV. G. A. BUTTRICK SPEAKS AT VESPERS SERVICE SUNDAY

"Friendship" Subject of Inspiring Sermon in Mead Memorial Chapel

Friendship was the subject of the Vesper sermon delivered by Rev. George A. Buttrick, pastor of the Congregational church of Rutland, in Mead Memorial Chapel Sunday afternoon. The text was taken from John XV: 15, "I have called you friend".

Rev. Buttrick maintained that the world has not yet solved the problem as to how people shall live together harmoniously or as to what attitude people shall assume towards their comrades. There are only three courses open to people: that of isolation which is practically impossible in this advanced age of cooperation and sure to produce a warped and narrow soul; that of domination which sinks the welfare of others in pure selfishness; and finally that of friendship.

"God has so made the world that people must either love or kill", said Rev. Buttrick. Friendship is religion undefiled. Encouragement is to be found today in the fact that the world is waking up for the first time to the fact that Christ's course is the only sane right course to follow, that of love and helpful cooperation.

FRESHMEN INFORMED ON IMPORTANCE OF DEBATING

At a meeting held in Old Chapel Thursday evening President Moody and Professor Allen M. Kline, of the department of History, addressed about seventy men of the freshman class on the value of debating as a college activity. Over a score of men responded to the appeal for candidates for the debating team.

Adams '23 and Parry '24, members of last year's undefeated teams, spoke on the benefits of debating to the student and explained the qualifications to membership in Tau Kappa Alpha, national debating fraternity, and the Wetherell Debating Club.

Two debates, one with St. Lawrence and one with the University of Vermont, have been arranged for the season with Eddy '23, Adams '23, Austin '24, Klimm '24, Parry '24, Riley '24, all members of last year's team still in college, prospects for a successful team are unusual.

RECOMMEND CHANGE IN LETTER AWARDS

Undergrad. Ass'n in Favor of Granting "M" to Football Men Who Play in Two Major Games

A motion passed by the Undergraduate Association that that body recommend to the Athletic Council that they amend their constitution to the effect that any man participating in any two of the five major football games, Harvard, Dartmouth, West Point, Norwich and Vermont, be awarded a major sport letter, featured in the business of the meeting of the association held last night in McCullough Gymnasium. There was considerable discussion over the adviseability of this measure, one faction explaining the good effects of the new ruling in stimulating interest in sports and the other decrying the lightened requirements for the coveted "M", but the recommendation finally passed almost unanimously.

Under the old ruling it was necessary for a football man to play in at least half the quarters on the 'varsity schedule to win his letter. In order to become effective the new requirement will have to be passed by a two-thirds vote of the Athletic Council thus amending the constitution of that body.

It was also decided at the meeting to award winged-feet emblems to letter men on last year's State Championship track team who had not already received such honor.

H. E. Lane '22 was unanimously elected manager of tennis and the appointment of R. T. Hall '22 as chairman of the Red Cross Roll Call Committee was announced by the Student Council. W. H. Fitzpatrick '22, Manager of football, was named as chairman of the Trophy Committee, and Cook '24 was appointed to succeed Savage '24 on Sophomore Rules.

The association voted to authorize the Student Council to award a prize not exceeding ten dollars in value to the person with the most original and effective make-up in the Freshman P-rade held last Saturday.

Arrangements are to be made for a special train to Burlington for the Middlebury-Vermont game November 12. The question of awarding distinctive letters for the various college sports was discussed but no definite action was taken and the matter was referred to a committee. Reports of committees completed the business of the meeting.

'VARSITY HARRIERS LOST TO WILLIAMS

Middlebury Cross-Country Runners Bow 15-48 to Faster Team—Cole '22 Finishes First for Midd

The inauguration of cross-country running at Middlebury ended with a 48-15 defeat by Williams here Saturday. The Williams men showing the result of long hard training, far out-ran the inexperienced Middlebury harriers. Five Williams men crossed the finish line ahead of Captain Cole '22 who was the first to score for Middlebury.

The course which led around what is known as the "Cornwall triangle" kept to the road and was six miles in length. The time was 34 minutes, 32 seconds.

The order of runners was: Fasco, W., Adams, W., Swan, W., Sanford, W., Cole, M., Webb W., Cook, M., Wechsler, M., Seamon, M., Palmer, M., and Whitton, M.

The next meet on the Middlebury schedule is to be with Dartmouth at Middlebury next Friday. There will be a run with R. P. I., at Troy, November 5, and others are pending.

ANNUAL FROSH P-RADE OBSERVED SATURDAY

According to custom the freshman class appeared before the public in various inconceivable and indescribable forms Saturday before the Norwich game, making a conglomerate mass equaling in absurdity if not in quantity the Frosh P-rade last year.

"The old brown mare" featured as a novelty but for the most part the usual objects of interest came in for their customary share of the "razzing". The co-eds, hula-hula maids and the fairies attracted particular attention.

The column lead by the college band marched from the Old Chapel through town and back to Porter Field.

No award of the Undergraduate Association prize has as yet been announced.

To Occupy Atwood House Jan. 1—Accommodations for 15 Men

The Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity has leased the Atwood house situated at the southeast corner of Weybridge and College streets. The fraternity will occupy the house January 1, 1922. Previous to the war the organization occupied the Eddy House on Weybridge street, but the house was given up in 1918 owing to the absence of many members who were in the service.

The house has recently been redecorated and refinished, and a new heating system installed. It provides rooming accommodations for fifteen men, and the fraternity will start its own table the beginning of the second semester. With the opening of the A. S. P. DROP KICK WINS FROM NORWICH 3-0

Daly making many long gains through and off tackle and Captain Gollnick also pushing through for many yards. Daly, who was playing in place of Ashley who is out with a broken wrist, did some fine work.

Quackenbush Scores Goal

Honors for scoring go to Quackenbush the Middlebury quarter whose reliable toe once more came to the aid of the 'varsity. His accomplishment in beating Norwich 3-0 recalls a similar victory over the cadets in 1919 when "Keck" Parker '20 made the drop that beat Norwich and accounted for the only score of the game. It also recalled Quackenbush's work in the Vermont game last fall when his two field goals were the only points scored.

The Middlebury line did some fine work both on the offensive and the defensive. There were no outstanding stars, each man featuring in many plays that stopped the cadet backfield in their tracks. Keppler playing for the first time at end deserves mention for his scrappy game, while Gallagher on the opposite end put up his usual hard fight.

Moynihan was a mountain of strength at center and Reinbrecht and Potratz flanking him also played stellar games. Norton showed up well at tackle and Kalin repeatedly broke through and smeared the Norwich runners behind their own line of scrimmage.

Many Witness Contest

The game was witnessed by a large crowd of Middlebury and Norwich supporters, the cadets having come over in large numbers to support their team. The stands were also well sprinkled with University of Vermont students who took this opportunity to see the rival Vermont team in the field. An interesting feature was the attendance of the executives of the three Vermont colleges Presidents Plumley of Norwich, Bailey of Vermont, and Moody of Middlebury occupied seats together in the stands.

Celebration of the Middlebury victory took the form of a snake dance immediately after the game and a bon fire in the space south of McCullough Gymnasium Saturday evening.

About thirty-five men were present at the first rehearsal of the College Glee Club, held Friday evening at seven o'clock in the Band Room. No dates for appearances have been definitely arranged as yet but it is expected that at least two out-of-town trips will be made.

Regular meetings of the club are held between seven and eight o'clock Friday evenings.

HOLD FOOTBALL RALLY BEFORE NORWICH GAME

A short spirited rally was held under the auspices of the Sages in McCullough Gymnasium Thursday evening. Coach Arthur N. Brown, Professor J. Moreno-Lacalle and Harry E. Brown '22, the speakers, all spoke on loyalty to the team and expressed confidence in their ability to "beat Norwich". The program was interspersed with cheers and songs.

Two boxing matches proved lively engagements. In the lightweight class "Shorty" Long '25 met "Kid" Bailey '24 in three fast rounds and in the middleweight class Lorenzo '24 and Gonzales '25 provided excitement until Lorenzo sprained his thumb and the bout was called off.

A snake dance and the Alma Mater completed the entertainment.
